- The Hook Up Tackle (The Hook Up, the Consignor) agrees to sell your (the Consignee) equipment on a consignment basis. The Consignee agrees to accept the credit amount generated from the sale of his/her equipment. The sale amount minus any eBay, Paypal and return shipping label fees equals his/her store credit. The Hook Up does not deduct any fees for the services provided by The Hook Up Trade-In Program.
- Items and store credit cannot be redeemed for cash. No store credit can be, in any way, transferred into cash. Store credit must be spent on regular stock items in The Hook Up Arizona location, on educational activities or guide trips hosted by The Hook Up Outfitters or anything available for purchase on www.thehookuptackle.com. The Hook Up Trade-In credit is NOT valid on sale priced items, used items or on The Hook Up eBay auctions.
- No auction or sale posting can be ended before the scheduled ending date unless an error in the listing or posting has been made. We will return your gear at any time as long as it's not posted for sale. We will return what we cannot sell.
- The Hook Up lists items with no reserve as we find this strategy yields more credit for the Consignees items. If you would like a reserve placed on the sale of your items, please notify us in the description above.
- The Hook Up relies on the information given by the Consignee to sell his/her gear, but The Hook Up reserves the right to form the given facts into a listing that will effectively provide the appropriate information to the potential buyers. We will not list any consignment item as new.
- Bidding up or winning your own item will result in forfeiture of that item to cover our time spent selling it.
- The Hook Up will not list any items without an accompanying signed trade-in program contract (this document).
- We will hold your items until we receive this contract or payment for the shipping to return your items.
